Genesis

Numerous developments have taken place in the field of management education in the last century and the present millennium from the perspective of both theory and practice. These developments have not only shown its impact on the economy of nations, technology and business organizations but also on the world, society and human psyche. Whether the impact is positive or negative is a subject of debate. But one thing that is apparent is that this field is constantly evolving and more dimensions are added to it by management thinkers on continuous basis. Keeping this scenario in view, Shriram Institute of Management & Technology (SIMT), a unit of 'Social Welfare & Education Society' was established in July 2004 to prepare efficient and skillful professionals for facing the challenges of 21st Century. The work of managers and organizational leaders in changing economic environment is not only challenging but also rewarding. Those who aspire to become and grow as organizational leaders in today's environment will need to acquire specialized knowledge, skills and attitudes. A sharp rise in inflation and changed lifestyle has made higher education unaffordable for the student community.
